

ASPIRANTS ALL HAPPY

Senatorial Candidates Pleased at Smoot's Attitude.

HELPS CLEAR THE AIR

WHAT SOME OF THEM THINK OF THE MATTER.

There was all kinds of sunshine in the hearts of the senatorial candidates on the last day of the nineteenth century. The cool, crisp air that made ordinary people turn up their coat collars had no effect on the patriots who are willing to sacrifice themselves for their state. The reason for the unprecedented geniality was the withdrawal of Reed Smoot from the race, as announced by The Herald on Sunday.

Each of the good sized bunch that remains in the fight figured that his chances were materially improved by the declaration of the apostle. None would go into the reasons for Mr. Smoot's stand, but they all agreed that the withdrawal of the candidate was a ray of hope from the passing of the Smoot cloud, and all had something to say of a complimentary nature about the man who no longer bars their path to Washington.

Thomas Fitch's View.

Thomas Fitch thought Mr. Smoot was one of the very nicest men it had ever been his pleasure to meet. "There is no doubt in my mind," he said, "that Mr. Smoot would have been a formidable candidate had he entered the race. Neither is there any doubt that he would have made an able and acceptable senator if elected."

Asked as to whether he thought he would profit by the withdrawal of Mr. Fitch said, smilingly: "Why, certainly. If all the rest of them would withdraw I'd have a sure thing, wouldn't I? That is, unless two more candidates came out for each one who withdrew. Of course I am unable to say who will get the bulk of the support that would have fallen to Mr. Smoot."

In many other states where senators are nominated at primaries and legislators are elected after letting everybody know who they intend to vote for, there is no question of the ability to deliver his vote in part or as a whole to some other candidate. Here the conditions are different.

"In other communities, where the sanctity of the American home is not endangered by Mormon influences, a few legislators have been known to be willing to part with their votes for cash or approved credit. But here the legislators are primitive enough to believe that their votes are public trusts, and they vote for the benefit of their state and their party, rather than for the benefit of the party of the second party."

W. S. McCormick Was Surprised.

W. S. McCormick found time between two busy minutes at his bank to discuss the senatorial situation. "I was surprised at the withdrawal of Mr. Smoot," said he. "The last time I had a talk with him he left the impression that he would remain in the contest. If he had stayed in there is no doubt that he would have had a very strong following. If he had been chosen I feel sure he would have served his state with distinguished ability, for I know him to be an excellent business man and a loyal Republican."

"I don't believe Mr. Smoot will attempt to swing the votes he would have received to any particular candidates, and if he did I hardly think it would be possible for him to deliver the goods. The members of the legislature are, for the most part, men who think they are not dictated to by anybody. They are in a position to think for themselves and they will vote according to the dictates of their consciences and the best interests of the state."

O. J. Salisbury added his quota to the good things that the candidates had to say about Mr. Smoot. "I know Mr. Smoot would have made an acceptable senator had he been chosen," said Mr. Salisbury. "I wish to say also," he added, with a twinkle in his eye, "that if the other candidates will withdraw, I will vote for Mr. Smoot. Mr. Salisbury did not care to be quoted as to the possibility of benefit to himself by the action of the Provo man. He expressed the hope, though, that he would get his full share of Mr. Smoot's possible strength."

George M. Cannon was willing to give Mr. Smoot a hearty send-off, but he didn't know who would inherit the latter's strength.

Senator Brown refused to be quoted further than to say that Apostle Smoot would have represented the state had he been elected.

M'CORMICK AT CULLEN.

Banker Will Open Headquarters at Ewing Hotel.

W. S. McCormick will be the first of the senatorial candidates to open headquarters apart from his place of business. Yesterday representatives of Mr. McCormick practically closed arrangements with Proprietor Sam Ewing of the Cullen, for a suite of rooms on the second floor, where the candidates will always be found after this week to welcome the legislators who will shortly be arriving and to see that they are properly treated.

There won't be any attempt at lavish decorations of the rooms or any display of any kind, Mr. McCormick's idea is that there should be some central place where his friends can foregather for the purpose of holding caucuses and consultations free from interruptions of any character. The rooms at the Cullen will answer this purpose and at the same time will be headquarters for the McCormick campaign at all reasonable hours during the day and night.

TRUMBO COMING HOME.

Will Enter Senatorial Fight if Circumstances Are Right.

Colonel Isaac Trumbo has written to a friend that he will return to Salt Lake about Jan. 3. He is now at his mine, the Golden Cross, near Hedges, in San Diego county, California. There is little doubt but that on his return he will look carefully into the senatorial situation and, if he finds that circumstances justify a belief that he can succeed, he will at once say his nat into the ring.

The colonel ought to be able to make things interesting for the other candidates. He has a wide circle of friends throughout the state and some people who profess to look upon his proposed candidacy as a joke may find it a serious one before the unpleasantness is over.

CANNON FOR GEORGE M.

Denies Report That He Wants Salisbury Elected.

George M. Cannon, according to a story that is going the rounds, is not out for himself for senator, but for O. J. Salisbury. Some color is given to the report from the fact that Mr. Salisbury's organ, the Suburban Storm Starter, has thus far treated Mr. Cannon's candidacy with every possible consideration.

Further basis for the belief is found in the fact that, so far as known, Mr. Cannon will not take a single vote away from Mr. Salisbury, Senator-elect

Love would, according to a reliable guesser, vote for Arthur Brown if Mr. Cannon were out of the way. Nephew Morris, another of his supporters, would enter the Thomas camp. William Johnson, senator-elect from the Tenth district, is reported to be for Cannon first and Brown second.

When approached in regard to the matter yesterday afternoon, Mr. Cannon entered an emphatic denial. "I am running in my own interest," he said, "and not to aid anybody else. It is absurd to talk of my acting as stalking horse for anybody."

In spite of Mr. Cannon's denial, however, the story has gained wide circulation, but the Brown and Thomas men say they are not alarmed at it. They declare that Mr. Cannon cannot deliver his votes to Mr. Salisbury, even if he had the desire, and they men will get them at the proper time.

WARRANT FOR SECRETARY.

Friends Think He Should Have Chief Place in Senate.

The name of Noble Warrum has been mentioned frequently lately in connection with the position of secretary of the senate. Mr. Warrum's friends consider him an ideal man for the place, and feel certain that he will be selected. He is well posted on legislative matters, having served in the constitutional convention and in the first state senate.

At all times he has worked hard for the success of the Democratic party, and those who are acquainted with him declare that he is entitled to this recognition for so long a time. Mr. Warrum was editor of The Herald, resigning that position several months ago to engage in a life insurance business, with headquarters at Logan.

In addition to his other qualifications, Mr. Warrum is a lawyer of considerable ability. Should he be chosen for secretary of the senate there is no question but that he would fill the place with distinguished ability.

The only other candidate who has been mentioned for the place is Albert Morris, who served as secretary of the senate two years ago.

ONE FOR ALL.

McFarland Will Support Weber County Man.

Ogden, Dec. 31.—The appearances are that E. M. Allison, Jr., will have at least one supporter in the legislature for the position of United States senator. Mr. Allison is not a candidate, and as reported in The Herald of Sunday, is supporting Arthur Brown for the place. However, Archibald McFarland of West Weber is reported to be for Allison, and there is so much Scotch in the candidate that it is doubtful if even Allison can switch him to Brown.

It is reported that Arthur Pratt came to Ogden some time ago, inquired of Senator Shurtliff for Mr. McFarland. Mr. Shurtliff introduced the latter, having been the brunt of hostility when it was unpopular to be a straight Republican in Utah, was the logical candidate for the seat of Mr. McFarland, and that he would vote for Allison.

E. H. Anderson stated today to The Herald that he had made up his mind to vote for one of the prominent candidates. He said he was not yet ready to make his choice public. He wanted the election to be over in a few days at most, and he was not going to begin.

Weber county legislators-elect today received formal autograph letters from George M. Cannon announcing his candidacy.

JACKSON'S DAY EVENT.

Committees Instructed to Go Ahead With Their Work.

A meeting of the committees in charge of the Jackson's day celebration was held in the Knutsford yesterday afternoon. The attendance was light, owing to a misunderstanding as to the place of meeting, but those present accomplished some work.

The programme committee was instructed to close up the programme and the committee on publication to continue their efforts. It was stated that they are expected to attend the celebration. The committee in charge of the banquet feature was requested to close arrangements with one of the hotels for the spread, and a general meeting of all committees was called for Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Kenyon parlor.
